Essential Provisions of National Produce Agency Act Given In Full
KNOW WHAT YOU DO BEFORE YOU DO IT

Growers Must Learn Terms of Contracts If They Are To Complain

A national law that has already been used for the protection of Florida truckers and growers from which they can obtain continued benefits is known as the "Produce Agency Act," became effective May 17, 1927.

Under this law, last month, J. C. Temple, a fruit and produce dealer at Atlanta and to pay a fine of $100 on each of two counts. The prosecution was brought by R. W. Burck, Inc., of Miami, who shipped two cars of citrus fruit to Temple, Temple paid for one car but did not make an accounting for the second car.

Growers in the Everglades have been made acquainted with the provisions of the produce agency act by its process being invoked by Dr. Teller on Tonia Island against V. A. Stewart & Company. In that case it was determined that the Stewart company being more familiar with the provisions of the law than the shipper, had protected himself against prosecution by getting A.

The Stewart-Teller transaction was covered in full in an article appearing in this paper a few months ago that warned growers of the danger of making a straight commitment to a single commission house.

Growers have asked The Everglades News to print in its columns their reports of the exact returns they get from sales and consignments and this newspaper agreed to do whatever the growers want it to do. An arrangement has been made with the U. S. Department of Agriculture to have one of its agents visit the Everglades and investigate complaints at this end and also at the New York end, as was done in the Stewart case.

Here are the essential sections of the national produce agency act.

Section 1. Any person receiving produce in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another shall be considered to have violated the act if knowingly and with intent to defraud he makes any false report or statement to the person from whom such produce was received concerning the quantity, condition, quality, sale or disposition thereof.

Section 2. Any person receiving produce in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another shall be considered to have violated the act if knowingly and with intent to defraud he fails truthfully and correctly to account to the person from whom such produce was received for the actual price received, the actual expenses incurred and the actual net proceeds of the sale, handling and disposition of the same, unless a different basis of accounting is agreed upon between them.

Section 3. Any person receiving produce in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another shall be considered to have violated the act if knowingly and with intent to defraud he fails truthfully and correctly to account to the person from whom such produce was received for the actual price received, the actual expenses incurred and the actual net proceeds of the sale, handling and disposition of the same, unless a different basis of accounting is agreed upon between them.

Section 4. Any person receiving produce in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another shall be considered to have violated the act if knowingly and with intent to defraud he fails truthfully and correctly to account to the person from whom such produce was received for the actual price received, the actual expenses incurred and the actual net proceeds of the sale, handling and disposition of the same, unless a different basis of accounting is agreed upon between them.

THIS IS PROGRAM OF EFFORT FOR FLOOD CONTROL AS WAS ENDORSED

The present status of Everglades reclamation and development might well be compared to a modern plant factory building, with all needed raw materials available and with machinery to manufacture that raw material, but standing on a temporary foundation, and reachable only by footpaths.

Permanent strengthening of the foundation must come from carefully prepared plans for adequate control of excess waters, faithfully carried out.

Adequate transportation will only come from complete utilization of available water power. These are our two objectives, and the best method to achieve them challenges the most earnest thought and justifies the utmost efforts of far-seeing thinking men. Forty million dollars have already been invested in drainage; more than twenty millions are being invested in levees and levee roads, schools and similar public improvements; millions have been invested in agriculture and manufacturing enterprises; additional millions have been invested in the development of the Everglades.

These investments justify and require utilization of adequate water for control of floods, and drainage of excess waters. The plan to provide transportation from the Everglades to tide waters by the use of levees and levee roads, and the plan to provide drainage from the Everglades to tide waters by the use of levees and levee roads, are the two main plans for the development of the Everglades.

Interest of the United States. For the first time in the history of the Everglades, the interest of the United States was clearly brought out at the last session of Congress, when the House of Representatives passed a bill to create a new Florida water control district.

The bill was introduced by Mr. Clegg, of Florida, and was passed by a vote of 219 to 191. The bill provides for the creation of a new Florida water control district, to be known as the "Everglades Water Control District."

The bill also provides for the appointment of a board of directors for the district, to be composed of representatives of the various interests in the district. The board is to have the power to levy taxes on the land in the district, and to use the proceeds of the taxes for the purpose of carrying out the plan for the development of the Everglades.

CLEWISTON, Nov. 6.—Recent inspection of the farming territory east and west of Clewiston along the route of state road No. 25 show that the continuous pumping operation in the local drainage units is having a noticeable and beneficial effect on farm operations. Much land that has been under water for weeks is now dry enough to work and plowing and planting is progressing over a rapidly increasing acreage.

In the vicinity of Miami Lock, Dr. P. A. Watson is completing the setting of 15 acres of eggplant. The land is taking hold and growing well. On the highway east of Miami, Mr. Hoover stands ready to erect administration levees in congress to adopt an early report on the relief of the Lake Okeechobee-Chalcochatchee river system.

60 DAYS TILL WORK Starts on Road Job

Nearly 60 days will be consumed in the groves and cane fields of Orlando, road contractors, in preparation to execute its contract with the State Road Department for rebuilding Pahokee-Belle Glade road, a committee from Pahokee was told when they went to Orlando last week to see members of the firm of road contractors.

The 60 days will be used in assembling equipment and organizing a crew and getting the outfit on the job, the committee was told, and it was said that this time in advance would reduce correspondingly the time for completion.

Keeping the road open during construction was made a part of the contract. This requirement made necessary the allowing of a long period for final completion.

First Fall Tomatoes Are To Come From Port Mayaca Middle of Month

Land is drying up faster than bean planting is being done, because while some planting of beans is being done, the beans are being planted in the fields.

The only fall tomatoes in the Everglades are the Port Mayaca beans, which are being planted in the fields. The beans are being planted in the fields.

Most of the seed that is being sown is being sown in the fields. The beans are being planted in the fields.

Planting of onions was delayed by the high water and is now being resumed. J. U. Grant, this week planted 20 acres of onions in sections 20 and 4 south of Pahokee. He and others will continue to plant, and some other farmers are getting land prepared for a crop.

Mr. Grant planted onion seed December 27 and harvested a crop in April. The onion acreage is being planted in the fields.

LAND DEALS SEPARATE. DAHLBERG NOT INVOLVED

Associated Press dispatches from Tallahassee Tuesday reported the trustees of the national improvement fund as considering two separate land deals from Palm Beach county.

One of the deals was the offer of R. G. Dahlberg's southern Florida land to the National Improvement Fund.

The other deal was the offer of a group of Pahokee farmers to buy the land from the National Improvement Fund.

The charge of collusion, reported to have been made, related to a prior and different transaction with which neither the Southern Sugar Company or the Pahokee group had anything to do. No charge has been made by anyone against the propriety of the conduct of Mr. Dahlberg in one case or the Pahokee farmers in the other.

2 GAME RESERVES AT 20-MILE BEND

Extend East On Both Sides of W. P. B. Canal, Embracing Flatwoods Lands

Two game reserves in contiguous tracts have been formed in the flatwoods east of 20-mile bend, on both sides of West Palm Beach canal, with the east line only a few miles out from the city of West Palm Beach. Beginning November 20 that part of Palm Beach county will be closed to the taking of game birds and game animals.

The game reserves are created under section 4, chapter 1324, Laws of Florida, by C. C. Wood, state game commissioner, and approved by Governor Carlton, and the period of closing is for five years. The legal notice of the action was printed in the Palm Beach Post Tuesday. As no other notices are made it is presumed these are the only reserves of the kind in the county.

The reserve north of West Palm Beach is canal struts at 20-mile bend, runs north to near Big Wood, east to the Seaboard railroad and along the railroad to a point four miles west of Riviera. Thence south to the road on canal and along the road west to 20-mile bend, runs north to near Big Wood, east to the Seaboard railroad and along the railroad to a point four miles west of Riviera.

Observations

They seemed to be a need of food stock on the New York stock exchange when all those selling order came in.

If $27,000,000 could be had from Congress for continued anti-McCormack fly work, it will be more profitable to raise fly than to raise oranges.

Those young Hoosiers who were arrested at New Smyrna did not confess a series of hold-ups, shooting and thefts—they boasted about it.

Since mothers no longer train their daughters in household management, advertising has a new value, for the advertisements give much-needed information as to menus and diets. Such advertising is accurate, for it is checked in the domestic science class rooms; it has to be honest advertising.

"What every girl should know" is learned from the pages of newspapers and magazines now-days and not from the mothers.

The lobby investigators at Washington won't get real interesting until the lobby lobbyists start telling what they know.

If you are going to be arrested by a federal probe, get him to take you to Fort Belvoir in Miami. The Jacksonville makes you put up a bond of not less than $1,000 and it must be a good bond.

It is said the sugar company will not allow more than one family to live in any of the dwelling houses that have been built on the Canal Point townsite; that is, the rule is one family to a house. This is a proper policy. We know one man who knows the rule will keep out mother-in-laws.

Prospective Rotarians Prepare Program For Acceptance of Charter

The Pahokee Business Men's Luncheon Club, which is to become a Rotary Club, will meet today at the Pahokee Cafe instead of at the Seminoles dining room.

The change in meeting place was made because the Seminoles dining room closed when a change of ownership of the drug store became effective. Until now the club held all of its meetings at the Seminoles.

Official notice having been received that the application for a charter had been granted by Rotary International, and a committee from the Homebased club in rendering a program of charter presentation, President Sharp appointed as the local committee W. P. Jernigan, Al DeBrow and E. Elliott.

Reports were made as to the status of the project for a Boy Scouts troop.

CANAL POINT

Hugo Boe, now enlisted with the coast guard service and stationed at Fort Lauderdale, visited home folks Friday. He was accompanied by a friend from the coast guard base.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Adams made a business visit to West Palm Beach Monday.

The south approach to the bridge has been rocked and settled, bringing it to the attention of the bridge committee.

Frank O'Connell is up this week, distributing advertising matter for Connors highway. He was out on the same mission last week. There is a good deal of activity in the citrus districts, he found, but he saw few patches of beans.

Otto Blech of St. Cloud, formerly in the banking business and once a resident of Daytona Beach, is a visitor in Canal Point, calling on Ray Shackford, Daniels and George and other friends.

M. T. Mercer, representing the Walsh & Toomer Company of Jacksonville, was here Tuesday to call on L. L. Sturkey, the local representative of the Ideal line of fertilizers.

Mrs. Gus E. Wendell of Gladesview leaves Sunday for an extended visit with friends in Jacksonville.

Olaf Boe, manager of the Canal Point Garage, agent for the Philco radio in the Everglades, was a guest Monday at a dinner given by West Palm Beach by the Neil Electric Company, distributors of the Philco representatives in Palm Beach and St. Lucie counties.

Eighty-eight Philco sets, the latest radio shipment ever received in Palm Beach county, had that day arrived on a boat and were loaded on trucks and paraded the streets. As an advertising stunt, a tremendously large Philco set has been manufactured and it is to be taken all of the town where the Philco has representation.

Rudolph Geiger of Canal Point was injured in a motorcycle accident Friday on the road between Canal Point and Pahokee, sustaining a broken leg. Dr. S. S. Spence of Pahokee tendered medical aid and sent the young man to the hospital in West Palm Beach. News has been received that he is getting along all right.

CALLERS

Fred A. Flanders of Moore Haven, assistant engineer of Everglades drainage district, accompanied by Mrs. Flanders, called one day the latter part of last week. He was over to meet Mr. Peterson and Mr. Beator on local drainage matters. Mr. Flanders has been stationed at Moore Haven as far back as the oldest settler can remember and as he has lived in the shadow of the famous cypress tree all these years he too is a landmark of the Everglades.

Carroll Duncumbe of Stuart stopped Monday on his way to Clewiston. Known for many years as "the pineapple king of Florida," he is now entirely out of the game and is selling cuttings and other hard supplies. He says pineapples are too hazardous a crop to grow without the protection of a tariff that will equalize conditions with Cuba and Porto Rico.

On his way to West Palm Beach Saturday evening, Dr. R. V. Allison of Everglades settlement station stopped to leave at Gladesview Cayote—excuse the spelling: station like that. It looks like a bull, paper but grows on a vine.

was only on Friday at noon, since no many living close to Fort Lauderdale returned home after the season session.

We heard a great many interesting speakers. There are a few remembered speakers. If there are any in our audience who do not love little children, let them design before Christmas.

"Taxes for the upkeep of our schools should be paid by those who spend money. If there are to buy homes and take out life insurance. In the last forty years there has been great progress in our schools, in science, in inventions, but our tax system remains the same as it was forty years ago."

The most important thing you do in school is to learn to read. In fact, we can learn nothing without the use of the eye. Do not make a druggery of it. If there are parts that do not interest you, skip them and go on with the story, but read."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
One of the best ways to bring about better conditions in the schools is by making the child strong and healthy. A strong body for a strong mind and a strong mind for a strong body.

Florida are working and hoping for the future. The problem of health education as studied today is divided in two parts, health education and physical education. Under health education we have supervision, facilities, and organization. Under physical education we have physical education, instruction, and supervision.

At this time, the leadership is not what it should be in the state of Florida. However, we are making progress each year and by working hard we hope to bring about a better understanding of the world physical education. Many people do not understand just what physical education is and do not take it as they should.

Physical education taught as it should be, will bring about a better understanding of life things which are worth while. It builds character and makes the child stronger physically, mentally and morally.

CARNIVAL
Rain! That's what was received by a large group of people free of charge, at the school Thursday night, when they gathered to participate in the Halloween carnival festivities.

In the middle of the activities the children were given a contest of many paper costumes. Some of the people left, but many stayed on to take part in the celebration.

The prize for the beauty contest was won by Inez Mandfield. The popularity contest was won by Walton Bragg.

Mary Milliken was the prize in the costume parade for the girls. Being dressed in an old fashioned dress of orange and black tartan with a bonnet to match. She carried a bouquet of marigolds.

A contest for the prize for the boys' costume, being dressed in a typical western cowboy, even to the red flannel shirt and a sombrero.

In spite of the weather, we cleared a profit for the Athletic Association.

HISTORY
The death of poor Guy was announced and solemnized on Monday, October 28. The burial was attended by the entire American history class, with Mr. Bishop acting master of ceremonies. Mr. Walton Bragg and Mr. C. L. Wilder were chief mourners.

The foregoing article is the result of forbidding the use of the word "gay" directed especially to Walton. Mr. Bishop, our history instructor, does not approve of the continued use of the word in reference to a person.

EFFIES DIARY
Mary Milliken
Monday—Teacher asked me what essence was. Told her it was a person without sense. How should I know it was perfume?

Tuesday—Had my heart examined but the doctor couldn't seem to find it. No wonder, I lost it Saturday.

Wednesday—Didn't study my history. Answered that the battle of Bull Run was fought in the swamp by General Science.

Thursday—Had Physical Ed. nothing special happened.

Friday—Lordy, how happy I was before Thursday. Feel slightly sore at everyone.

Saturday—School out. How I hate school.

Later: Kinda lonesome today. Later still: Gee, wish it was Monday.

JOKES
Walton Bragg.
Mr. Cox and Mr. Bishop entered a popular cafe one evening to dine. The manager said to the little girl, "Betty, give those gentlemen some water."

Betty spoke up: "Daddy, they are not gentlemen—they are teachers."

Carolyn Mock: "I went to the dentist yesterday."

Fred Tyrer: "Does your tooth ache now?"

C. M.: "I don't know. He tooth has it."

All the children in high school were sorry to hear Jimmie Rogers' death. They wanted to know how he came to die. He was singing "Rainbow Round My Shoulders." It got "Tight Like Taut" and choked him, to death.

DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Canal Point Home Demonstration Club held its annual meeting and election of officers last Friday.

Mrs. Rose Winnie was elected president, Mrs. Clinton Coburn, vice president, Mrs. Paul C. Filly secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Barras outlined the plan of work for the coming year, and the program is a most interesting one. At the roll call each meeting the members will answer with some improvement they have made with their hand work in the house or garden, or a favorite recipe. At the December meeting, recipes containing milk will be given.

Clubs are urged to stress yard improvement and beautification. Clubs will devote part of the regular meeting to food nutrition and health programs.

Prizes were awarded for the best exterior and interior improvement as shown in the recently record books. Mrs. Santee and Mrs. Speer received prizes for interior improvement and Mrs. Filly for exterior. The club was also urged to do something definite to encourage boys' and girls' club work.

The women of Canal Point are invited to join this club. There will be no dues and the meetings are held the first Friday of each month at the school at 2:30 p. m.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.
Preaching services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., followed by a social hour.

The Ladies Aid Society met with Mrs. Bergen Wednesday afternoon. There was a splendid attendance. After the business session the members sewed for the bazaar. Many articles have been made and more are being made. Mrs. Bergen reported that the plans for the Thanksgiving Dinner were completed and tickets were being sold; she is planning for double the number at the dinner this year than we have served heretofore.

UNION CHURCH NEWS
The children's services following the Sunday school period last Sunday was quite an inspiration. We hope to try it again some time when we have more help in directing the little folks for their parts. They are so willing and responsive that it is such a pleasure to skip them.

Next Sunday we will have the regular hours of service: Sunday school 10 a. m., preaching at 11 a. m., evening service with sermon at 7:30 p. m.

The song service last Sunday was greatly enjoyed by those who were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Giles and other Pahokee singers were in attendance and sang with such spirit that the song service must have been acceptable praise to our Lord and Master.

Rev. Thoms appointed a committee of ladies to make plans for a Thanksgiving feast and bazaar. The ladies are Mrs. Torg Yarbrough, Mrs. Alan Crowley, Mrs. Delmer Hoke, Mrs. Beatrice Kari, Mrs. W. A. Adams and Mrs. Wm. Jesse Thomas. The committee met at the home of Mrs. Yarbrough on Tuesday evening and got to work. They expect to serve dinner on the church lawn from 1 o'clock until 2 p. m. on Thanksgiving Day (Thursday, Nov. 28).

Fresh vegetables, baked goods and articles of fancy work will be on sale that time. In the evening a program will be given at the church by the children, followed by a Thanksgiving sermon. Please be ready to tell the committee members what your Thanksgiving offering is to be when they call on you. Fancy work, baked goods and fresh vegetables will be thankfully accepted.

W. J. THOMAS, Pastor.

Floyd Watson returned Saturday from Homestead, where he worked putting buildings in shape that had been damaged by a storm. He used to live in Homestead. He will farm 16 acres of the Husey land and will start getting the land in shape this week.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE BIG LAKE

OKEEELANTA

During the week just past we witnessed one of the Highway dredges moving eastward in the North New River canal; also the passing up and down of the state boat in charge of surveyors, for several days.

P. E. McCarroll and C. Conell who have moved into the bridge house, after having repaired the Hurricane wrecked structure, will devote time and energy in planting a considerable acreage to potatoes on that side of the canal.

Henry Beard and wife, his brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Bert Little and the Miami canal neighborhood, were dinner guests at the Covells last Sunday. Before their return home they made short calls on every one of their pioneer friends of the town. Much water has run down the canal and many disappointing discouraging changes have taken place since their former visit in Okeeelanta.

Peter Knutson is at present working in Miami while waiting for the water to go off and the ground to dry up for his contemplated farm work in this vicinity.

BRIDGE OPENED FOR DREDGE
SOUTH BAY, Nov. 6.—The F. E. C. Railway Company sent in a derrick and pile driver to take out a span of the railroad bridge across the North New River canal so that the Bryan & Hollaway dredge could pass through the bridge to Fort Lauderdale.

The dredge passed through Tuesday afternoon and the bridge was restored and traffic resumed on the railroad on Wednesday. Tom Bryan came up from Fort Lauderdale in his launch to see the dredge get through the gap in the bridge. He returned home by motor and Carl Lockmiller took the launch back to Fort Lauderdale.
